1. The first part of the report is a general description of the project. It includes the title, the objectives, the scope, and the methodology. The title is "The Effect of Temperature on the Rate of Reaction of Hydrogen Peroxide with Potassium Iodate". The objectives are to determine the effect of temperature on the rate of reaction and to determine the activation energy of the reaction. The scope is to study the reaction of hydrogen peroxide with potassium iodate in the presence of a catalyst. The methodology is to use a titrimetric method to determine the rate of reaction.

2. The second part of the report is a detailed description of the experimental procedure. It includes the list of materials, the list of apparatus, the list of reagents, the list of solutions, the list of steps, and the list of observations. The materials are potassium iodate, hydrogen peroxide, and a catalyst. The apparatus are a conical flask, a graduated cylinder, and a stopwatch. The reagents are potassium iodate, hydrogen peroxide, and a catalyst. The solutions are potassium iodate solution, hydrogen peroxide solution, and catalyst solution. The steps are to prepare the solutions, to mix the solutions, to start the reaction, to stop the reaction, and to titrate the reaction mixture. The observations are to record the time taken for the reaction to complete and the volume of the reaction mixture.

3. The third part of the report is a discussion of the results. It includes the list of results, the list of conclusions, and the list of recommendations. The results are the rate of reaction at different temperatures and the activation energy of the reaction. The conclusions are that the rate of reaction increases with temperature and that the activation energy of the reaction is 40 kJ/mol. The recommendations are to study the effect of concentration on the rate of reaction and to study the effect of catalyst on the rate of reaction.

autores. The first play, La despreciada querida, is wrongly ascribed to Lope de Vega, it having been written by Juan de Villegas. It is published in Rivadeneyra's edition of Lope's plays, but is there assigned to Villegas. La industria contra el poder, etc., is Calderón's play Amor, honor, y poder. The play El celoso extremeño, assigned to Pedro Cuello, was written by Antonio Coello. Barrera's statement that in this volume it is ascribed to Lope de Vega is incorrect. El príncipe Don Carlos is wrongly attributed to Diego Ximénez de Enciso, as it was written by Juan Pérez de Montalván. The authorship of El príncipe Escanderbey is doubtful. In this volume it is ascribed to Luis Vélez de Guevara, while in Parte 28 of Comedias de Lope de Vega y otros autores, it is attributed, apparently without reason, to Lope de Vega. In vol. 45 of Comedias nuevas escogidas, it is attributed in the index to Luis de Belmonte, and in the text to Luis Vélez de Guevara. In that volume it bears the title by which the play is more generally known, El gran Jorge Castrioto y príncipe Escanderbey. A play with this last title is mentioned among the Comedias sueltas as having been written by Belmonte. Barrera enters the play as Belmonte's and also as Guevara's, but, under Guevara's name, he adds the following note: "Esta se atribuye mas comunmente á Belmonte. La de Luis Velez parece ser, El príncipe esclavo y hazañas de Escanderberg, y puede tenerse por segunda parte." Riva-deneyra is of the opinion that it is by Belmonte. La cruz en la sepultura is Calderón's Devoción de la cruz.

The title-page and colophon are fac-similes of the 1522 edition. Part of the rest is made up by original leaves taken from an edition, hitherto unknown, issued apparently as a reprint by Ramon de Petras under the same date as his original edition. Ff. 1, 2, 9, 42, 43, 47, 89, 90, 91, 109, 110, 188 are of the ruder type of the reissue of Ramon, 1527. F. 189 seems to be again of another impression.

as is shown by the difference in type and paper; the same folios in the latter copy contain a sonnet by Valdés, which is also to be found on folio 20. According to Gallardo these folios were reprinted in order to omit this sonnet. Gallardo also states that ff. 202, 203 (by an error the last is numbered 127) have been reprinted, probably on account of some profanity in a sonnet by Quevedo, which does not appear in either copy.

In the first copy, signature Rr is repeated, ff. 175, 176 are misplaced, and the folios of the Tabla are bound at the beginning, while in the latter they are bound at the end. The second copy was bound by Bauzonnet-Trautz.
